OVERVIEW:

Everything that surrounds and affects living organisms is environment. Environment includes all those things on which we are directly or indirectly dependent for our survival, whether it is living or biotic components like animals, plants or non-living or abiotic components like soil, air and water etc. It belongs to all, influences all and is important to all.

Environmental Protection Act (1986) defined “Environment as the sum total of water, air and land, their interrelationship among themselves and with the human beings, other living organisms and materials.” Environmental studies are important since it deals with the most mundane problems of life like hygienic living conditions, safe and clean drinking water, fresh air, healthy food and sustainable development.

The syllabus for Environmental Studies includes conventional class room teaching as well as field work. In this course the teacher simply acts as a catalyst to infer what the student observes or discovers in his/her own environment. Involvement of students in project work is one of the most effective learning tools for environmental issues. This syllabus is beyond the scope of text book teaching and also the realm of real learning by observing the surroundings. The content of this course provides an OVERVIEW of introduction to environment, concept of an ecosystem, various renewable and non-renewable resources, how are various biodiversity occur and different means to conserve these. This course also includes various types of pollution and environmental policies & practices related with environs. Finally, it also highlights the relationship of human population with environment. The course further integrates to project work such as visit to an area to document environmental assets river/ forest/ grassland/ hill/ mountain, visit to a local polluted site-Urban/Rural/Industrial/Agricultural, study of common plants, insects, birds, and study of simple ecosystems. These studies are as imperative as it forms a unique synergistic tool for comprehensive learning process. This will help students to recognize and appreciate how the technological advancement at global level, exponential growth of human population and their unlimited demands has put the environment at stake and has contaminated the environment worldwide.

COURSE OBJECTIVE AND EXPECTED OUTCOME:

The main objective of the course is to create consciousness among the students with the idea about healthy and safe environment. This course is aimed to explain students that the rapid industrialization, crazy consumerism and over-exploitation of natural resources have resulted in degradation of earth at all levels. These changes need the discussion, concern and recognition at national and international level with respect to formulate protection acts and sustainable developments policies. It can be possible only if every citizen of the nation is environmentally educated and gets involved into this matter at the grass root level to mitigate pollution.

After studying the course, the learners will be able to comprehend and become responsive regarding environmental issues. They will acquire the techniques to protect our mother earth, as without a clean, healthy, aesthetically beautiful, safe and secure environment no specie can survive and sustain. This is the only inheritance which every genera of specie passes to their future generation.

SLDM 301	DISASTER MANAGEMENT	C
		3

		3	1	0	4

Course Overview: Computing and programming is essential to leverage the technical skills of a student. These techniques equip the students with know-how of the latest technologies and reduce considerable time in solving problems. Success in college and beyond requires computer and information literacy's that are flexible enough to change with a changing IT environment and adaptable to new problems and tasks. The purpose of the information technology requirement is to ensure that students achieve an essential understanding of information technology infrastructure encompassing systems and devices; and become more sophisticated technology users and consumers.

Objectives and Expected Outcomes: The main objective is to introduce IT in a simple language to all undergraduate students, regardless of their specialization. It will help them to pursue specialized programs leading to technical and professional careers and certifications in the IT industry. The focus of the subject is on introducing skills relating to IT basics, computer applications, programming, interactive media, Internet basics, etc.

The aims is to: 1. Understand basic functions of computer software components including operating system functions; 2. Develop a critical attitude to gathering, processing and evaluating information; 3. Develop a broad understanding of hardware, software, networks, databases and information systems and their uses; 4. Sensitise students to the use of Information Technology in conducting and living their daily lives; 5. Develop an awareness of the power and pitfalls of Information Technology.

Theory

UNIT I

Basics of Computers and its evolution: Evolution of computers, Data, Instruction and Information, Block diagram of a computer, Characteristics of computers, Functions of different units of a computer, Generations of computers, Classification of computers: - Digital, Analog and Hybrid, Micro, Mini, mainframe and Super Computer, Single-board computer.

UNIT II

Introduction to Computer Software: Open source Software, Copylefted and Non-copylefted Software; System Software; Application Software; Utility Software; Shareware, Firmware, Freeware, Free Software. Compiler and Interpreter, Generations of languages: Machine Level, Assembly, High Level, 4GL.

Introduction to Operating System: Objectives and Function of OS, Structure of OS, Types of operating systems, Component and Services offered by OS, Layered approach of OS, Properties of OS, System boot, File Management.

UNIT III

Input and Output Devices: Keyboard, Mouse, Joystick, Digitizer, Scanner, MICR, OCR, OMR, Light Pen, Touch Screen, Bar Code and Quick Response Reader, Voice Input Device, Monitor and its type, Printer and its type, Plotter

Computer Memory: Memory hierarchy, Primary Memory (ROM and its type - PROM, EPROM, EEPROM, RAM) Secondary memory- SASD, DASD Concept, Magnetic Disks - Hard disks, Optical disks - CD ROM and its type (CD ROM, CD ROM-R, CD ROM-EO, DVD ROM), Flash Memory, Blu-ray Disk

UNIT IV

Concept of Data Communication and Networking: Networking Concepts, Types of networking (LAN, MAN AND WAN), Communication Media, Mode of Transmission (Simplex, Half Duplex, Full Duplex), Analog and Digital Transmission. Synchronous and Asynchronous Transmission, Network topologies.

Introduction to Internet: Terminology related to Internet: Protocols, TCP/IP, HTTP, Internet addressing, Domain Names, DNS, URL, World Wide Web. Overview of various services on Internet: Webservers, E-mail, FTP, Telnet.

SOLS 110A	LAW OF CONTRACT - II	L	T	P	C
		3	1	0	4

Overview:

In our daily lives we make many promises which raise a reasonable expectation in the mind of the other person that such promises would be fulfilled. But not every kind of promise gives rise to legal consequence if not performed. Only those promises which the law requires to be legally enforceable fall into the category of contract. The general principles relating to formation and enforceability of contract are enshrined in the Indian Contract Act, 1872. The objective of this paper is to make students familiar with various principles of contract formation enunciated in the Indian Contract Act, 1872.

Course Objective and Expected Outcomes: This paper is to impart knowledge various special contract, law of agency and specific reliefs. In the society wherein all major ventures are getting corporatized, a law student should acquaint himself with the knowledge of special contracts apart from equipping himself with general principles of contract. This law is contained in several legislations apart from the Indian Contract Act. This course equips the students to better appreciate the legal services required in a corporate office so that he can enhance his relevance as a lawyer in society.

SOLS 108A	LAW OF TORTS and CONSUMER PROTECTION ACT, 1986	L	T	P	C
		3	1	0	4

Overview:

A tort is any civil wrong for which the law provides a remedy. Torts provide compensation for injuries to persons and property caused by the fault of another. There have always been concerns about whether there should be restrictions on tort law because of disagreements about who should bear the financial burden for an injury and what injuries should be compensable. Powerful lobbies of doctors, hospitals, insurance companies and product manufacturers are always appealing to Legislatures to limit the ability of the public to obtain compensation for violations of tort law. Consumers who are injured by defective products, victims of sexual harassment, drunk drivers, and many other civil wrongs are always under attack with their legal ability to be compensated for their injuries.

The purpose of tort law is to restore someone who has been injured as a result of the wrong of another to the condition they were prior to the injury by awarding them monetary damages which will pay for medical expenses, lost wages and compensate for physical and mental pain and suffering as a result of their injuries.

To deal with the malicious behavior of the people tort existed in Hindu and Muslim law but it can be said that tort was formally introduced by the Crown in India. It is based on the principles of equity, justice, and good conscience. The law of torts is based on the principles of ‘common law’ which is mainly the English law of torts. The application of the law of tort is an applied selectively in Indian courts keeping in mind if it suits the circumstances of Indian society.

Objective and Expected Outcome:

One moment you are walking on the road and the other you slip into the pit left open by the Municipal Corporation. Without having a glance around, you stand up quickly to cover up the embarrassment you have faced. But what can you do? This happens every now and then especially in a country like India. Is there anyone who could be blamed for this? I have sustained injuries so I should be more careful from the next time. Isn't it? No, there was a responsibility of Municipality in this situation. They were negligent in fulfilling their duty. This is what law of torts talks about and much more.

The objective of this paper is to equip students with knowledge of tort and consumer protection law with the help of leading cases.

After completing the course, students will be able to learn about

SOLS 209A	LAW OF CRIMES - I (IPC) (GENERAL PRINCIPLES)	L	T	P	C
		3	1	0	4

Overview:

Indian Penal Code is a substantive law which defines various crimes that are punishable in India. Though this Code consolidates the whole of the law on the subject and is exhaustive on the matters in respect of which it declares the law, many more penal statutes governing various offences have been created in addition to this code. The Indian security system has been one that has gone through a lot of tests and examinations throughout the time. This is due to the political as well as the social situation of the country. India is a land of diverse cultures and traditions and it is a place where people from various religions as well as ethnic backgrounds live together. The Indian Penal Code has its roots in the times of the British rule in India, formulated in year 1860. Amendments have been made to it in order to incorporate a lot of changes and jurisdiction clauses. The total number of sections contained in the Indian Penal Code is five hundred eleven. All these sections pertain to a particular category of crimes committed by civilians of Indian origin. The Indian Penal Code is thus the most fundamental document of all the law enforcers as well as the entire judiciary in India. The Indian Penal code has a basic format, it's a document that lists all the cases and punishments that a person committing any crimes is liable to be charged. It covers any person of Indian origin. The exceptions are the military and other armed forces, they cannot be charged based on the Indian Penal Code. They have a different set of laws under the Indian Penal Code as well.

Objective and Expected Outcome:

Various offences in the Indian Penal Code have been drafted keeping in view various principles of criminal liability. For example, most offences specify the required state of mind as well as the prohibited act for imposition of criminal liability. However, many situations require deviation from these principles due to the involvement of more than one person in the action, or due to the resultant harm to society, or due to prevailing social and cultural norms contrary to constitutional principles of equality and liberty to all. The course of Law of Crimes-I has been so designed as to enable the students to understand the general principles of criminal liability, to identify the ingredients of an offence, understand the range of state of mind required for different offences, as well as to sensitize the students about the inherent biases of criminal law against certain groups of people despite its claim of universality, neutrality and equality.

After completing the course, students will be able to learn about the various essentials which make an act punishable and also the different stages of crime.

UNIT I

Introduction to Substantive Criminal Law: Extent and operation of IPC, Definition of Crime

Fundamental elements of crime- Common Law principle of actus non facit reum, nisi mens sit rea and exceptions to this principle - Strict liability offences- The four elements that go to constitute a crime are as follows: first, a human being under a legal obligation to act in a particular way and a fit subject for the infliction of appropriate punishment: secondly, an evil intent or mens rea on the part of such human being; thirdly, actus reus, i.e., act committed or omitted in furtherance of such an intent; and fourthly, an injury to another human being or to society at large by such an act.

Stages in commission of crime- Intention, Preparation, Attempt, Actual Commission of offence

Difference between crime and other wrongs- In order to draw a distinction between civil and criminal liability, it becomes necessary to know clearly what is a wrong of which all the three are species. Law either awards punishment or damages according to the gravity of the wrong done.

If the law awards a punishment for the wrong done, we call it a crime; but if the law does not consider it serious enough to award a punishment and allows only indemnification or damages, we call such a wrong as a civil wrong or tort. In order to mark out the distinction between crimes and torts, we have to go deep into the matter and study it rather elaborately.

UNIT II

Elements of Criminal Liability: Joint and Constructive Liability, Common Intention and Common Object- Provisions for providing for group liability in crimes including sections 34 and 149 of the IPC are exceptions to the general rule of criminal liability that a man should be held liable for his own criminal acts and not for those of others. These provisions providing for vicarious liability/group liability are intended to deter people from committing offences in groups and to spare the prosecution to prove specific actus reus of each member of the group

Criminal Conspiracy- Conspiracy precedes the commission of a crime and is complete before the crime is attempted or completed. A mere agreement to commit an illegal act is sufficient to constitute the offence of criminal conspiracy.

Theories of Punishment- Reformatory, Retributive, Punitive, Deterrent, Expiatory

Kinds of Punishment: Punishments prevalent in the World- Flogging, Banishment, Whipping, Mutilation, Stoning, Pillory, Death Penalty, solitary confinement, fine, security bond.

Punishments in India- Section 53-74, Capital Punishment

UNIT III

General Exceptions –A person may not always be punished for a crime that he has committed. Section 76- 106 covers defences that exculpate criminal liability which includes Mental incapacity, Minority and Insanity, Involuntary intoxication, crime done with consent-

Private Defence - The right of private defence has come to be recognized by all civilized societies as a preventive and protective right where the state protection is not available; this right is essentially protective and preventive and never punitive. There are limitations on the exercise of this right both in relation to offences against human body and specific offences against property. The extent of this right, against whom it can be exercised, when this right commences and how long it lasts are dealt with elaborately in IPC.

Abetment- Abetment as a crime where a person helps another in commission of crime comes under Section 107-120 of the Code.

UNIT IV

SOLS 212A	LAW OF CRIMES – II (IPC)	L	T	P	C
		3	1	0	4

Overview:

Indian Penal Code is a substantive law which defines various crimes that are punishable in India. Though this Code consolidates the whole of the law on the subject and is exhaustive on the matters in respect of which it declares the law, many more penal statutes governing various offences have been created in addition to this code. The Indian security system has been one that has gone through a lot of tests and examinations throughout the time. This is due to the political as well as the social situation of the country. India is a land of diverse cultures and traditions and it is a place where people from various religions as well as ethnic backgrounds live together. The Indian Penal Code has its roots in the times of the British rule in India, formulated in year 1860. Amendments have been made to it in order to incorporate a lot of changes and jurisdiction clauses. The total number of sections contained in the Indian Penal Code is five hundred eleven. All these sections pertain to a particular category of crimes committed by civilians of Indian origin. The Indian Penal Code is thus the most fundamental document of all the law enforcer as well as the entire judiciary in India. The Indian Penal code has a basic format, it's a document that lists all the cases and punishments that a person committing any crimes is liable to be charged. It covers any person of Indian origin. The exceptions are the military and other armed forces, they cannot be charged based on the Indian Penal Code. They have a different set of laws under the Indian Penal Code as well.

Objective and Expected Outcome:

Various offences in the Indian Penal Code have been drafted keeping in view various principles of criminal liability. For example, most offences specify the required state of mind as well as the prohibited act for imposition of criminal liability. However, many situations require deviation from these principles due to the involvement of more than one person in the action, or due to the resultant harm to society, or due to prevailing social and cultural norms contrary to constitutional principles of equality and liberty to all. The course of Law of Crimes-I has been so designed as to enable the students to understand the general principles of criminal liability, to identify the ingredients of an offence, understand the range of state of mind required for different offences, as well as to sensitize the students about the inherent biases of criminal law against certain groups of people despite its claim of universality, neutrality and equality.

After completing the course, students will be able to learn about the various essentials which make an act punishable and also the different stages of crime.

UNIT I

SLHA132A	FRENCH-II	C

Overview:

This course will offer multiple contexts for studying the language, with many experiential opportunities for students in their individual areas of interest. While specific expectations will vary from student to student and by their co-disciplines, the French course seeks to regularly gather and report concrete evidence on what students can do based on their program of study. Learning outcomes are focused on all four modalities of the language: speaking, listening, reading and writing as well as knowledge of Francophone cultures and the skills of collaboration and critical thinking.

LANGUAGE PROFICIENCY

SPEAKING

- Students can fulfill requirement of everyday situations.
- Students can handle tasks such as elaborating, complaining and apologizing.
- Students can narrate and describe in past, present and future time.
- Students can use communication strategies.
- Students can support opinions and hypothesize.
- Students can interact comfortably with each other.

LISTENING

- Students can understand and memorize audio texts.
- Students show an emerging ability to understand complex discourse.

READING

- Students are able to demonstrate good comprehension of written discourse in areas of special interests.
- Students can understand the main idea and some detailed aspects of given texts.
- Students show emerging awareness of language and literary style.

- Students recognize the role of cultural knowledge in understanding written texts.

WRITING

- Students can write on a variety of topics with significant precision and in detail.
- Students can narrate and describe in past, present and future time.
- Students can state their opinions and provide some support for their ideas.
- Students can demonstrate ability to do basic analysis and research.

Objective and Expected Outcome:

This course gradually builds French knowledge and skills in writing, reading, speaking French and to develop the intercultural competence of the learners. In this course, candidates learn essential knowledge of literary forms, moments and trends in interdisciplinary extensions.

This study allows students to interact in French and acquire familiarity with the culture. This study will be the fundamental study to provide knowledge and instruction to students while also helping them develop their personalities and skills.

The objective is to provide an integrated knowledge of the subject which means that the various aspects that make up the language-learning experience are not separated or isolated but will be treated as complementary to one another. In one single activity, students may learn some facts, procedures, practice certain grammatical structures and practice communicative strategies.

SOLS 305A	JURISPRUDENCE	L	T	P	C

Overview:

The objective of the course is to create an understanding of basic legal concepts and provide an insight to the student into philosophical, ideological and theoretical foundations of the discipline of law with special reference to Indian legal system. The question of knowing the metabolism of law involves various inquiries such as what is law and where the law is and the functions thereof? However, the investigation invariably requires distinction of the law with which we are concerned, and the subject of jurisprudence and here it is clearly concerned with social science laws. As the course progresses students would be prepared to understand that this subject is more about questions and not answers.

Objective and Expected Outcome:

The learning outcomes set forth here are the aims of a comprehensive legal education for each student. The overarching goal of the faculty is to vest in our students the entire range of concrete lawyering skills necessary to most effectively perform as legal professionals at the local, state, national, transnational, and international levels in the 21st Century.

SOLS307A	CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908 and LIMITATION ACT, 1963	L	T	P	C
		3	1	0	4

Overview:

Civil Procedure Code is subject of daily use by the courts and lawyers. Students cannot afford to have scant knowledge of civil procedure when he goes out to practice as a lawyer. True that it is through experience one gets expert knowledge of civil procedure. However, it is necessary to have good grounding in the subject before one enters the profession. While the substantive law determines the rights of persons affected by action, judicial decisions will supply the omissions in the law.

The Code of Civil Procedure in India has a chequered history and lays down the details of procedure for redressal of civil rights. Many questions may prop up when one goes to vindicate one's civil rights. The court where the suit is to be filed, the essential forms and procedure for institution of suit, the document in support and against, evidence taking and trial, dimensions of an interim order, the peculiar nature of the suit, the complexities of executing a decree and provision for appeal and revision are all matters which a lawyer for any side is to be familiar with.

A delay in filing the suit, besides indicating the negligence of the plaintiff in effectively agitating the matter on time, may place court in a precarious situation. They may not be in a position to appreciate the evidence correctly. Evidence might have been obliterated. Hence, the statute of limitation fixes a period within which a case has to be filed. The students should know how the court fee stamp will be fixed, how the ready Reconor is referred and what is the importance of suit valuation

LEARNING OUTCOME:

Students will be able to communicate effectively regarding civil procedure issues orally (in class) and in writing (on the final exam and any possible short-report assignment). Students will understand the value and use of non-adversary alternative dispute resolution procedures and their integration with and use in resolving disputes concerning procedural rules, discovery, etc. Students will increase their ability and desire to engage in lifelong learning and service in their application, practice and use of the rules of civil procedure.

SOLS 303A	LAW OF EVIDENCE	L	T	P	C
		3	1	0	4

Overview:

The law of evidence is also concerned with the quantum (amount), quality, and type of proof needed to prevail in litigation. The rules vary depending upon whether the venue is a criminal court, civil court, or family court, and they vary by jurisdiction. The quantum of evidence is the amount of evidence needed; the quality of proof is how reliable such evidence should be considered. Important rules that govern admissibility concern hearsay, authentication, relevance, privilege, witnesses, opinions, expert testimony, identification and rules of physical evidence. There are various standards of evidence or standards showing how strong the evidence must be to meet the legal burden of proof in a given situation, ranging from reasonable suspicion to preponderance of the evidence, clear and convincing evidence, or beyond a reasonable doubt. Criminal charges lead to serious consequences for the accused. Therefore, in criminal cases, the level of proof required to resolve a case is very high. It is a strict requirement and the party alleging the crime must prove the claim beyond all reasonable doubt. Therefore, a case that goes to trial must be robust in its legal submissions and be able to prove the claim being made by the party. The laws have declared that certain types of documents and certain articles of evidence have more weight than others, and would prove the claim convincingly. This can be done by producing relevant documents, or eye-witnesses to the offending incident or circumstantial evidence that increases the probability of the incident.

Objective and Expected Outcome:

To provide students with detailed knowledge and skills in the rules of evidence and procedure as they apply to civil and criminal trials as might be relevant to a person working in a legal office, an insurance company or associated fields in the public or corporate sectors. Knowledge of the rules of evidence will enable analysis and evaluation of evidence available in connection with the preparation of a case for trial. Upon successful completion of the course the students will be able to analyse and define the concept and general nature of evidence, and illustrate the different types of evidence and court procedures relating to evidence, to analyse the rule relating to relevance of evidence, analyse and evaluate the rules governing examination in chief, cross examination and re-examination, and establish the procedures in the conduct of a civil or criminal trial.

SOLS 325A	SOCIOLOGY - III	L	T	P	C
		3	1	0	4

Overview: The objective of this paper is to impart important insights to students about concepts of sociology relevant for understanding law and to bring out the relationship between law and society. The attempt has been made to provide a basis for the understanding of law i.e. on what ground legislations are made. The intent is to make the student understand the basic concepts in sociology and their fundamental theoretical interrelations

Course Objective and Expected Outcome: The course expects to develop in students the sociological knowledge and skills that will enable them to think critically and imaginatively about society and social issues. It encourages a commitment to social justice based on an appreciation of social and intellectual diversity and an awareness of social inequality.

Unit I

This unit covers the relation between law and society. It will also discuss customary laws and some case studies. The role of courts and lawyers as social engineers will also be covered in terms of social legislations, social justice and social change.

Unit II

This unit will talk about social problems and social legislations. It will cover issues of ethnic and inter-caste conflicts, communalism, fundamentalism, terrorism, poverty, etc.

Unit III

The preventive mechanisms that exist in society are called Social Control. Thus, this unit will include meaning, mechanisms and agents of Social Control. The student will also learn the distinction between formal (public opinion, media, propaganda and law) and informal (customs, folkways, mores and religion) social control.

Unit IV

The concept of Social Deviance will be explained in this unit. It will include the meaning, types and theories (biological, psychological, etc.) of Social Deviance. Student will learn about the forms of crimes i.e. violent crime, white collar crime, organized crimes, environmental crime, crimes related to women, etc.

SOLS 312A	PUBLIC INTERNATIONAL LAW	C
		4

COURSE OBJECTIVE: The course aims to present a panorama of public international law, which covers principles and rules that govern the relations between States and the latter's interactions with other international actors. The course is designed to give students a global understanding of the rules governing international relations and, ultimately, provide them with practical skills in legal reasoning and arguing, research and writing on international issues. The course will start with an introduction to the international legal order, including a presentation of the specificities of international law as compared to domestic law. It will then focus on core areas of public international law which involve the following questions: Who are the actors in the international legal system and to whom does international law apply? How is international law created and where can it be found? What are the fundamental principles of public international law, besides the multitude of international rules, with a special focus on one of them, namely the prohibition of the use of force? Finally, in case of breaches of international rules, how does international law react to such breaches? The objective of this paper is to provide knowledge to the students regarding the Public International Law to enable them to deal with the transnational legal order.

COURSE OUTCOME:

This course is an introduction to Public International Law for Students of International Relations. Emphasis throughout the course is both on the substantive rules of the law and on historical episodes that illustrate the various issues. SOLS 403A	LABOUR and INDUSTRIAL LAW - II	L	T	P	C
		3	1	0	4

OVERVIEW:

Law comes into existence to cater to the growing needs of society, which may be caused by technological, economic, political, social changes. Law is a dynamic concept. Law is like a citadel which requires regular repairs, revamping and replacement. "Life and Laws have moved together in history and it must do in future". It is in this perspective that the Labour Legislations have to be studied.

Society evolves institutions to abhor vacuum created by changes. Industrial Revolution is a epoch-making event, which completely changes the lifestyles of society from agricultural and pastoral to industrial and materialistic one. The industrial society brought about, in its wake, excessive exploitation of the working classes by the employer who took advantage of the individual dispensability of the worker and wanted maximum profit on his investment. The golden rule of capitalism that "Risk and Right" go together provided them with prerogatives to "hire and fire". The other legal concepts which were then Introduction to Labour Legislation available were those of Master and Servant and carrot and stick etc. The principle of common law was in operation. The law of contract used to govern the relation between worker and the employer in which individual contact was struck, the terms of contract were usually verbal and mostly used in cases of breaches, leading to prosecution and imprisonment of workers. Labour and Migration Act was another legislation which gave rise to the "Indentured labour system". Anti-Combination legislations were in vague treating 'combination' of workers as act of criminal conspiracy. Longer hours of work, abysmally low wages, no safety and welfare provisions, and no insurance - the exploitation at large. State was adopting the policy of Laissez-faire (let not interfere) and employers abused workers, taking advantage of the situation.

Every society on its onwards march revises, reviews, refurbishes and reinvents its legal concept and civilized ways of living. The changes brought about by the industrial revolution created some gaps and it became the responsibility of the society to fill-up those gaps. Society went for certain social devices to take care of the gaps, which are known as labour legislation. The labour legislations are the products of Industrial Revolution and they have come into being to take care of the aberrations created by it. They are different from common legislations, because they come to alleviate special disorders created by specific circumstances. Therefore, they are specific and not general in orientation, philosophy and concept.

The students will have plenty of options who will in future choose to expert in the field of labour law and labour management. The course aims at providing skill and knowledge to the students in the domain so that the student can in future fulfill the demands of society as well as industries. The course is focused at nurturing labour law experts in such a way that they are academically sound to take the challenges in practical field.

SOLS 402A	INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS	L	T	P	C
		3	1	0	4

OVERVIEW: The course will give the learner an insight into how human progress depends on human creativity or intellectual skills. The legal protection of such creativity enables society's development in technology, business practices, art, literature and music. It is essential for the Indian law student to know the legal framework which encourages and sustains this creativity underlying each country's economy. This human capital like any other property can be stolen, misused and wrongly appropriated by those who have nothing to do with the efforts in making this capital. This destroys the identity of the creator and deprives him/her of its monetary and other benefits. In a globalized world this destruction and deprivation has been recognized and is sought to be prevented by international treaties. Today's law person is incomplete without knowledge of the legal remedies to prevent, prohibits and account for the infringement and theft of the intellectual property. The student will be taught the Patents Act 1970, Copyright Act 1957, Trademarks Act 1999, Designs Act 2000, the Semi-conductor, and Integrated Circuits Layout Design Act 2000, the Biological Diversity Act, The Geographical Indication of Goods (Regulation and Protection) Act 1999, in the context of the evolution of those rights and the international treaties/agreements.

COURSE OBJECTIVE AND OUTCOME: The Student will learn the changing dimensions of IPR. This will explain the changes in Intellectual Property Regime, the emergence of new intellectual property rights, the influence of intellectual property regime in different countries and role of traditional knowledge in transforming IPR system etc.

Overview

The State of India's poor does not feature much in Indian law Curricula. Only a few law schools offer an optional course. The Constitution of India - especially Article 39-A since 1976 commands innovation of legal system in such ways that no one, especially because of economic condition, is denied access to the law and its benefits. In so far as legal education is a state-funded or sponsored action and even otherwise, this Directive Principle must apply to renovation of legal education. The constitutional programme of social justice displays a dramatic concern for the "weaker sections of society". Steadily, legislation protecting their entitlements has grown to impressive proportion in the last forty years. They would be advocates, counsellors, judges, teachers; scientists in law ought to have a complete grounding in these legal processes of "development". The burgeoning "poverty law" involves: (a) constitutional provisions' (b) legislation; (c) administrative anti-poverty programmes aimed at improving economic condition f the poor; (d) legal services programmes; (e) adjudication on the entitlement of the poor through social action litigation. All these need careful study in this compulsory course.

Course Objective and Expected Outcome: The objective of this paper is to provide an understanding of basic concepts of poverty and development and their relationship with law.

UNIT I

Understanding Poverty and Development : Poverty: Meaning and Concept, Relative Dimensions, Measurement and Determinants, Issues related to Poverty in India; Development: Perspectives, Developmental index.

SOLS 320A	LAW ON CORPORATE FINANCE	C
		4

Course Objective: Industrialization has played, and has to play, a very vital role in the economic development of India. In the post independent era, industrial development is regarded, and hence employed, as principal means in the strategy for achieving the goal of economic and social justice envisioned in the Constitution. Corporations, both public and private, are viewed as a powerful instrument for development. In a developing society like India enormous varieties of consumer goods are manufactured or produced. Obviously, the situation raises the issues of procuring, utilizing and managing the finances. For this purpose, a science of financial management techniques has been evolved. The faculties of commerce, business and management studies have since last decades started to impart instruction so as to turn out sufficiently well-equipped and adequately trained financial personnel. However, the legal and juristic aspects of corporate finance have been more or less not effectively taken care of.

In view of the above perspectives the broad objectives of this course may be formulated as follows-

- (i) To understand the economic and legal dimensions of corporate finance in the process of industrial development in establishing social order in the context of constitutional values
- (ii) To acquaint the students with the normative, philosophical and economic contours of various statutory rules relating to corporate finance
