EXPERIENCE

Introduction

Dr. T S Bikal is the director of Ektaa Hospital located at Sohna Road, Gurgaon. He is a General Physician himself. He was invited by our department to shed some light on the importance and growing popularity of the field of Physiotherapy.

Objectives

- To give newly admitted students an insight about significance of physical activity and its effect on general health.
- To indulge students in physical fitness yet enjoyable activity.
- To learn about basics of Zumba exercise under professional guidance.

Content

After the students were apprised about what books to refer for various subjects, the next session was planned to actually instill motivation in them to study and bring the field of physiotherapy name and fame through their efforts. Dr. T.S. Bikal introduced himself to the students and was able to build a rapport in the very first few minutes. He shared his experiences where his patients benefitted from physiotherapy. He through his talk motivated first year students to work hard and help their field grow more. He also asked some fun anatomy based questions from the second year students to make the session more interactive. He also applauded all the students to have chosen this glorious field for themselves and to be satisfied and proud of themselves for making it this far.

Attendees

20 first year students participate in the event.

Conclusion

It was a successful event which showcased extensive participation by first year. The students were highly motivated post the informative session by Dr. T. S. Bikal. They were encouraged by him to study well and make a name for themselves.

Future Scope

Motivational talks and experience sharing always proves fruitful for the students as it gives them someone to look upto. Hence, various such sessions can be held throughout the year to keep the spirits of students high.

Introduction

Healthcare delivery involves a diverse and amazing tapestry of highly specialized professions. This makes teamwork in healthcare delivery more challenging than in virtually any other sphere of human work activity. It requires professionals to go extra lengths to learn about the other members of their teams so that each team member can call on all the others to contribute everything they are able to offer in the service of patients or in the support of patient care. The present seminar entailed the roles, education, and values of the professionals who are the most common members of healthcare sector such as Doctors, Nurses, Pharmacists and Physiotherapists.

Objectives

A seminar was conducted on “Values and Duties in Healthcare Professionals” to provide awareness to the Students and Staff of Pharmacy and Physiotherapy on the following aspects:

- Providing patients with preventive measures
- Spreading awareness about Communicable and Non-communicable diseases
- Educating people about prevention, cures and other Life Saving Tips
- Disseminating information about how to live healthy lives.

Content

The School of Medical and Allied Sciences (SMAS) organized Outreach Seminar on “Values and Duties in Healthcare professionals”. The seminar was attended by around 60 students and staff members of Pharmacy and Physiotherapy. The speaker of the session was Dr. Priyanka Goswami, Ekta Hospital, Gurugram who enlightened the audience about the various values and responsibilities of Healthcare Professionals to the students of Pharmacy and Physiotherapy. She told about quality healthcare services to be provided to all the patients irrespective of their socio-economic status and about quality care needs that met the professional standards. She told about respecting patient rights, professional behavior towards patients, reliability, polite and respectful behavior towards patients and emphasized on parameters like kindness, honesty, team work and possessing necessary knowledge for healthcare needs. She told not to discriminate among patients and motivated the audience by saying that this profession may fill your pocket amply but will surely fill your soul.

She addressed students as the future of Healthcare Industry carrying responsibility of patient’s health and well-being including their families and communities. The students were benefitted by learning the roles, responsibilities and values to be followed as healthcare professionals so that they can make up to the demanding needs of the Healthcare profession and can commit their responsibilities in a diligent and righteous manner in future.
