School of Legal studies has organized a Case Study on Bandhua Mukti Morcha vs Union of India, AIR 1984 and Right to Education vs Child Labour on 17th October, 2022.

The LEGAL ASPECT OF RIGHT TO EDUCATION was discussed in which the latest amendment was explained under the Constitution (Eighty-sixth Amendment) Act, 2002 inserted Article 21 A in the Constitution of India to provide free and compulsory education to all children in the age group of six to fourteen years as a Fundamental Right in such a manner as the State may, by law, determine.

The Recourse person also tried to emphasize on the Right of Children to Free and Compulsory Education (RTE) Act which came into force from 1st April, 2010. 'Free education' means that no child, other than a child who has been admitted by his or her parents to a school which is not supported by the appropriate Government, shall be liable to pay any kind of fee or charges or expenses which may prevent him or her from pursuing and completing elementary education. He discussed certain SUPREME COURT Judgements on RIGHT TO EDUCATION and the landmark judgment in Bandhua Mukti Morcha v. Union of India & Ors. (1997) 10 SCC 549 along with other public interest litigation cases on the issue of child labor, and a range of child labor eradication campaigns have been successful in raising awareness about the issue of child labor and placing the issue prominently on the government's agenda. Mr Abhijeet has also put up the question before the students that Where We Stand in relation to right to education and child labour in India? Despite having laws and rulings on this subject matter, millions of children still continue to be exploited in the labor market in India and there is an urgent need for stronger and more effective protections for the rights of children. The benefit of the Act should be to reach every person of India which is not been enjoyed till now due to poor implementation of the Laws. The outcome of this case study was that the students got the clarity on the questions which they had in their mind regarding the famous case law Bandhua Mukti Morcha vs Union of India and how one can step forward that child labour can be abolished from the society as well. Introduction

School of Legal studies organized a Training Programme for non-teaching staff spreading awareness about legal apps under old MOU with Knowledge Steez. The main purpose behind conducting this is to make the said staff aware about various apps through which they can seek redressal in case of different issues arising around them or with them. Mainly there were three apps which were discussed with them namely, Right to information, National Cyber Crime Reporting Portal and Department of Administrative Reforms and Public Grievances. In the portal of Right to information they were told when can they file an RTI, the whole process of filing an RTI through the portal and at last they have to pay an amount of 10 rupees. Also, later on how can they check the status of their applications was explained practically to them.

The second portal i.e. the cybercrime portal, they were guided as to what is a cybercrime and how can they actually file a complaint in case of such crime along with this it also has an option to file a complaint in case of women or children related crimes. The whole process of filing and then checking the status of the complaint was physically shown to them.

The third portal i.e. of the Department of Administrative Reforms and Public Grievances has an online platform known as the Centralized Public Grievance Redress and Monitoring System which is connected to all the ministry and through this the people can file any complaint to any public authority in any department of the ministries in India. They were also told that this portal is accessible through the UMANAG app. Again, the whole process of filing and checking the status of grievance filed was explained and what type of complaints can be lodged was explained in detail.

At last the School Co-ordinator Dr. Indrajit also informed that of the legal-aid cell existing in the university and how can these people directly approach us for any legal matters or in filing of
