Introduction:

On the 6th of April 2023, the School of Legal Studies at KR Mangalam University hosted a guest lecture in conjunction with Tankam Law Classes on "Collaborative Research on Recent Case Study/Amendments in POCSO ACT, 2012". The lecture was aimed at imparting knowledge to the 4th and 6th semester law students from the School of Legal Studies regarding the POCSO Act, its implementation, and recent amendments.

Objective:

The main objective of the guest lecture was to equip students with an in-depth understanding of the POCSO Act, its provisions, and amendments. The lecture aimed to provide a platform for collaborative research on recent case studies and amendments in the act, promoting legal research and analysis.

Registrar

K.R. Mangalam University
Sohna Road, Gurugram, (Haryana)

Methodology:

The event was conducted offline, and the resource person for the lecture was Ms. Shraddha Sharma, a learned faculty from Tankam Law Classes. Ms. Sharma commenced the interactive session by eliciting the aspirations and goals of the law students, and then proceeded to deliver insights into litigation and the judiciary. She then conducted a session on the POCSO Act, its history, implementation, and various relevant provisions. Ms. Sharma utilized case studies to elucidate the practical application of the act. She also expounded upon the procedural aspects of the act and its provisions.

Content:

During the lecture, Ms. Shraddha Sharma expounded upon the psychological and social aspects of child and women-related crimes and their deleterious impact on the victims. She apprised the students about the various amendments that have been made to the act recently, rendering it more robust. She also informed students about the different courts and the procedures for dealing with child-related crimes under the POCSO Act.

Outcome:

The lecture was highly informative and provided the students with a nuanced understanding of the POCSO Act and its recent amendments. The lecture also provided a platform for collaborative research, enabling the students to further enhance their legal research and analysis skills.

Conclusion:

In conclusion, the guest lecture on "Collaborative Research on Recent Case Study/Amendments in POCSO ACT, 2012" was a resounding success, and the students gained invaluable knowledge regarding the POCSO Act and its implementation. The lecture provided a platform for collaborative research and encouraged students to engage in legal research and analysis.

School of legal studies organized a workshop on Recent Amendments on Pre-Conception and Pre-Natal Diagnosis Techniques Act (1994) by the School of Legal Studies. The objective of this session was to make the students aware about the recent amendments brought under the PCPNDT Act, 1994. During the session there was an in-depth discussion on the mal-practices that were conducted prior to the coming of this act and how people take out loopholes with respect to the Act.

The session was conducted physically and it was an interactive session with all the students. The resource person Ms. Shraddha discussed the PCPNDT Act, 1994 in detail where all the important provisions were highlighted including the provision under which court the offences shall be triable. Students clarified a lot of queries especially in context on how more stringent action can be taken against the violators. The students were given a questionnaire on the Act as to check their understanding as to when the Act came into picture and what is the purpose behind this Act.

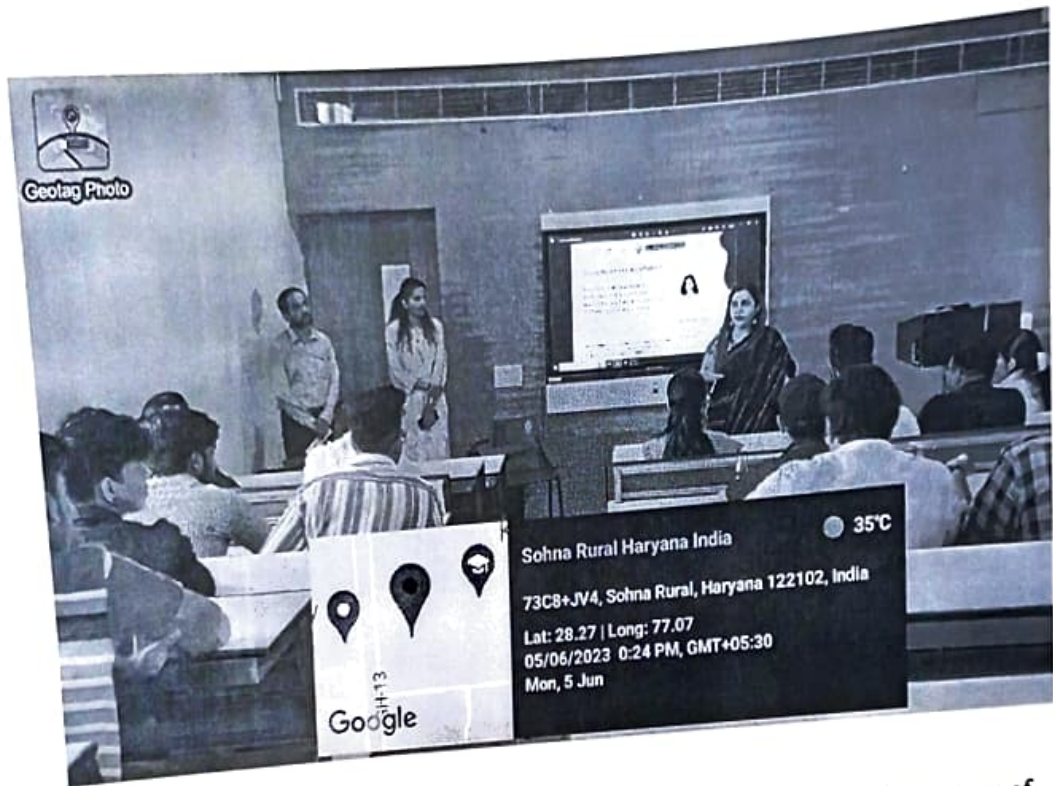

The outcome of the event was that events on similar themes should be conducted at regular intervals. The students specifically requested to have more such enriching so that they gain more
