GUEST LECTURE on Jurisprudential Analysis of Criminal Procedure Code (CrPC): Competency to take Cognizance and Competency to Trial

Target Group: Students of SOLS

Resource Person: Ms. Varsha Singh

Date and Time: 6th April, 2022 from 12 pm onwards

Venue: A-213, K.R Mangalam University

Collaboration: V-Rankers

Attendees: 27 students (27 Students)

Introduction:

Being a law student it is very important to keep on adding something new to your knowledge timely and guest lectures are being conducted to revise your knowledge or to add something to it.

On 6 of April our university School of Legal Studies Department conducted one more guest lecture on the topic Jurisprudential Analysis of CrPc Competency to take Cognizance Competency To Trial. 88 students and faculties from School of Legal Studies took part in this guest lecture. It was given by Miss Varsha Singh who is currently teaching at an Institute named V Rankers and is also a Founder Director of V Rankers Institute. She has completed her LL. B and LL. M from the prestigious University of Delhi. The energy that she put while explaining the topic was really commendable. It all started with a formal introduction and ended on a good note of experience.

Objectives:

1. To make the students acquainted procedures related to criminal procedure code
2. To open up minds of students regarding competitive exams

Content:

As the topic for discussion was related to CrPC it have to be interesting as many students find this one more interesting than others. I like the way she started it with a question and in interacting manner. To understand the depth of something heading should be crystal clear to everyone and she took this seriously. started it with clearing the true meaning of topic that is

Sohna Road, Gurugram, (Haryana)

Jurisprudential Analysis of CrPC. So basically Jurisprudence is the study of law and analysis is analysing something so that it makes sense.

Questions That Were Discussed:

- 1.) What is Jurisprudential analysis Of CrPC?
- 2.) What are rights of accused?
- 3.) What are the various sections dealing with particular topic?
- 4.) Hierarchy of Courts.

Jurisprudential Analysis is nothing but the main purpose or essence of CrPC or the legislative intent behind making this law. It is a procedural law and is basically used for the collection of evidence and for conducting trial against the accused. But by doing this accused rights cannot be denied at any cost. The proper procedure should be followed for fair justice for better safeguard of accused. As crime is not done against individual but against the whole society it gets important to stop individual doing so in future to set an example. Various case laws were also discussed for example Nirbhaya's case. So to maintain the fair balance between the social justice and accused that is done by CrPC through courts the essence of CrPC got understand. Also the way CrPC is evolving similar to Constitution of India. Various sections taken from section 300 of CrPC to Article 21 of Constitution of India and Section 6,29,28 of CrPC related to Hierarchy of Courts were explained.

Attendees: 27 Students of SOI S

Conclusion

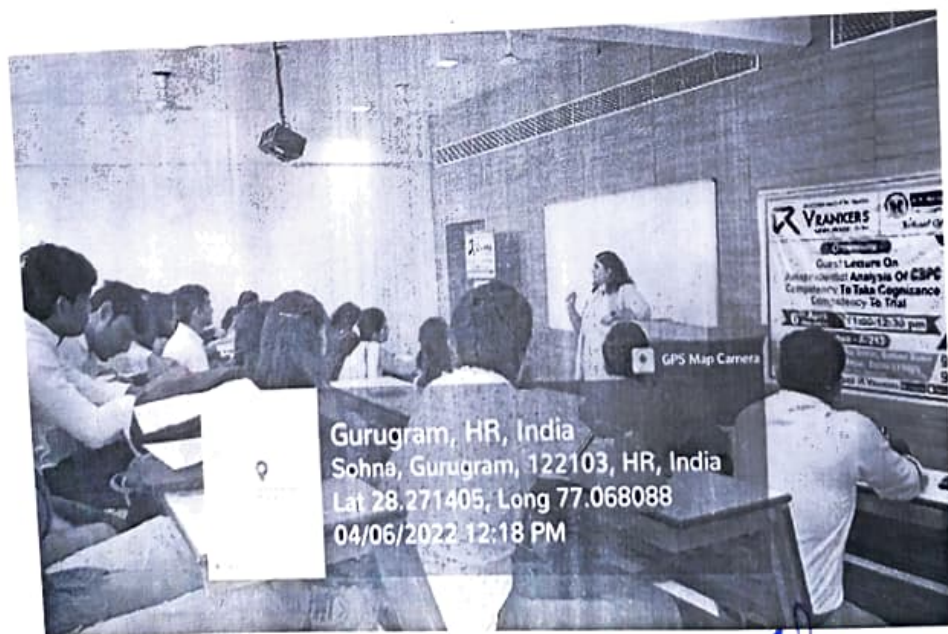

Overall the way of teaching was effective one. Student gets to learn a lot. We also had a question round session at last, all the queries of the students were listened and cleared. Students enjoyed it throughout and is looking forward for more such guest lectures as it will really help us to get a command over our knowledge realistically.

Further Scope:

Needs to do social jurisprudential analysis in every acts and specially on Human Rights Violation acts.

Report on Guest Lecture on "A Case study: M.C. Mehta versus Union of India and Career Counselling for Competitive Exams in Collaboration with V Ranker's"

Target Group: Students of School of Legal Studies

Coordinator: Ms. Khushboo Saraf

Resource Person: Ms. Varsha Singh

Date and Time: 24th August 2022 at 11:15 AM

Introduction: The Department of School of Legal Studies of K.R. Mangalam University organized a Guest Lecture on "A Case study: M.C. Mehta vs Union of India and Career Counselling for Competitive Exams" on 24th August 2022 from 11:15 AM to 12:30 PM. The Guest Lecture was organized in collaboration with the V Ranker's, which is known for their coachings for Judiciary.

Objectives: The aim of the guest lecture was to equip students with the basic necessary knowledge of the Environmental Law and its importance. Environmental law seeks to address the issue of environmental degradation, resource-exploitation, human-health and many more.

Content: The lecture started with the discussion on Constitutional Provisions relating to Environment Protection in India. Mainly two provisions were discussed, those were Article 48A (Directive Principles of State Policy) and Article 51A (Fundamental Duties). The background of the Bhopal Gas Tragedy was also discussed.

The Speaker then stressed on the case of M.C. Mehta versus Union of India and discussed how the concept of absolute liability was evolved in this very case. Further, important cases which were initiated by M.C. Mehta was also discussed including introducing lead-free gasoline to India and reducing the industrial pollution fouling the Ganga and eroding the Taj Mahal.

After the detailed session covering each and every aspect of Case study on M.C. Mehta versus Union of India and its judgment, the speaker concluded the session by taking up the questions from the audience, and further discussing innumerable career options for law students.

25/8/22

Overall attendance: This lecture was for the students of SOLS. The lecture was attended by 20 students.

Outcome of the Lecture: The lecture enabled the students to strengthen their knowledge about the environment protection and pollution control. It gave them a realistic picture of the present scenario, vis-a-vis pollution and climate change. The session also generated a interest around the broad array of research opportunities available for Law students, to develop efficient techniques to mitigate this problem, along with other important career options and competitive exams.

Conclusion: The speakers chose the M.C. Mehta versus Union of India case to introduce to the students the rising field of environment law that is becoming the need of the hour with each new day. The Guest Speaker was successful to encourage the students and make them realize the importance of controlling environmental pollution and for making them aware the researches that are being conducted in this field.
